DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election with traverse of claims 1-9 in the reply filed on November 6, 2006 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that the claims 1-9 and 10-21 are not distinct. This is not found persuasive because Claims 1-9 requires the office to find structural features and claims 10-21 requires office to find the process of making the structure. This requires office to search in different Class, which is a burden. Furthermore, even though applicant amended claim 10, the limitation is put into new claim 20. Switching the limitation does not relieve the burden.

The applicant is asked to cancel claims 10-21.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

For this office action office considered, mixed oxide of claim 3 is non-stoichiometric silicate. As claimed in claim 4, x value changes for the alloy but not for the silicate. Hence, the claim 4 is rendered indefinite.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1, 2, 5, 6, 8 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yu et al (US 2002/0089023 A1).

Regarding claim 1, Yu et al disclosed in Fig. 3, a semiconductor component having a silicon-bearing layer [301] and a praseodymium oxide layer [306] characterized in that arranged between the silicon-bearing layer [301] and the praseodymium oxide layer [306] is a mixed oxide layer [305] containing silicon, praseodymium and oxygen [Paragraphs 0037, 0039 and 0042].

Yu et al does not disclose the oxide layer has a thickness less than 5 nanometers. However, the range would have been obvious to an ordinary skilled in the art because, absent evidence of disclosure of criticality for the range giving unexpected results, it is not inventive to discover optimal or workable ranges by routine experimentation. In re Aller, 220 F.2d 454, 105 USPQ 233, 235 (CCPA 1955).

Regarding claim 2, Yu et al does not disclose the oxide layer has a thickness of a maximum of 3 nanometers. However, the range would have been obvious to an ordinary skilled in the art because, absent evidence of disclosure of criticality for the range giving unexpected results, it is not inventive to discover optimal or workable ranges by routine experimentation. In re Aller, 220 F.2d 454, 105 USPQ 233, 235 (CCPA 1955).

Regarding claim 3, Yu et al disclosed in Paragraph 0039, the mixed oxide is a non stoichiometric silicate.

Regarding claims 5 and 6, Yu et al disclosed the silicon-bearing layer comprises doped or undoped silicon-germanium or silicon [Paragraph 0037].

Regarding claim 7, Yu et al disclosed silicon-germanium layer or the silicon layer [301] has an (001) orientation at the interface to the mixed oxide layer [the (001) orientation refers to flat surface, in Fig. 3 it shows that interface of 301 and 305 is flat].

Regarding claim 8, Yu et al disclosed in Fig. 3, an MOSFET.

Regarding claim 9, Yu et al disclosed in Paragraph 0002 a memory cell.
